

FACT SHEET

Life Link: A Road to Independence

Produced by Penn State Public Broadcasting

DISTRIBUTOR: Penn State Public Broadcasting

PROGRAM LENGTH: 1 hour

Close-captioned

PRODUCER/PRESENTOR: Penn State Public Broadcasting, WPSU-TV

SYNOPSIS (LISTING):

"Life Link: A Road to Independence" follows a group of special education students from the State College Area high school as they participate in a Penn State program that gives them the opportunity to make the transition from high school to collegiate life. The film follows several students as they take classes, move into their first apartment, get jobs, and learn to live more independent lives.

FUNDING:

"Life Link: A Road to Independence" is a production of Penn State Public Broadcasting with partial funding by The Pennsylvania Department of Education, Bureau of Special Education.

PRODUCTION:

Producer/director: Joe Myers

Executive producer: Tom Keiter

DVD Available: Penn State Media Sales 1-800-770-2111
<http://www.mediasales.psu.edu>

Production contact: Tom Keiter, Penn State Public Broadcasting
(814) 863-9381

Publicity contact: Jill Filby, Penn State Public Broadcasting
(814) 863-9912      jillfilby@psu.edu