Wednesday, April 29, at 9:00 p.m.

Dear member,

We know many of you enjoy receiving this program guide by mail each month. We're always excited to show you the variety of programs coming to WPSU. While we will continue to produce a guide very similar to what you're looking at now, we wanted to give notice of an upcoming change. After our June edition, the guide will no longer be printed and mailed directly to members. Instead, it will be available in digital and print-at-home format at wpsu.org/schedules and sent via email in our Member Insider newsletter.

We know this may be disappointing news, and it's not a change we're making lightly. Due to economic pressures facing public broadcasting, we have had to reevaluate recurring expenses with an eye toward putting as many resources as we can into bringing you great programming. Recent changes in the mailing process and other complications have also meant that some communities aren't reliably receiving the guide in a timely manner. With the digital guide, we can ensure program information is available for people to view and print before the month begins and can be updated to reflect any programming changes throughout the month.

Thank you for continued support for WPSU, and above all, thank you for watching.

Sincerely, The WPSU Team
