Television Programming

WPSU produces, airs, and streams a robust variety of television programming tailored to the interests of our regional viewers. Our programming covers the arts, local history, sports, and more. Truly, there is WPSU programming to capture the imagination of almost any viewer!

A Landmark Year for Our Town

One of our highlights for 2024 was being honored with a Mid-Atlantic Regional Emmy Award for Our Town: Big Valley, one of the most recent installments from season 25 of our popular Our Town series. In this award-winning, movie-length video, volunteers from the Kishacoquillas (or “Big”) Valley came together to share stories of Native Americans, the Amish, the Belleville Civic Club, the Reedsville revitalization, and more.

For more than 40 years, Weather World has been a trusted source for expert weather coverage in the Central Pennsylvania region. Airing every evening on WPSU-TV, this daily weather magazine is a partnership between WPSU and Penn State’s Department of Meteorology. Our team of expert meteorologists delivers in-depth statewide forecasts while exploring how weather shapes our daily lives through engaging segments. In 2024, Weather World continued its legacy of bringing reliable and insightful weather reporting to Pennsylvania. Beginning in October 2024, Weather World reached 24,496 viewers through streaming channels including YouTube TV, Hulu, the PBS app, and WPSU’s website.

The Local Groove Presents

This spin-off of our popular radio show features musical performances by Pennsylvania artists at WPSU's studio. Seasons three and four included Ted McCloskey and the Hi-Fi's, Caledonia, The Jaded Lips, Jon Smith's Voyages, Ma'aM, Marshmallow Overcoat, The PennSoulvanians, and Natascha & the Spy Boys.

Keystone Stories

This broadcast and digital series takes viewers to the breathtaking, interesting, sometimes quirky, and hidden gems around the central Pennsylvania region. Pennsylvania's beautiful landscape serves as the backdrop for an exploration of the people, places, and culture that make the region unique. WPSU produced and aired four new episodes in 2024 — "Secondhand Treasures," "Farming," "Taking Flight," and "Sweets."

Culinary Connections

This series tells the stories of people and places in our area that use food to connect with the world around them. These restaurateurs and artisans create more than culinary experiences, they create connections to their patrons, communities, and cultures. Culinary Connections episodes tell an engaging story paired with a cooking demonstration with guest chefs from local restaurants such as Horn O Plenty in Bedford, Pine Grove Hall in Pine Grove Mills, Mama Randazzo's in Altoona, and The Cakeshop by Tati in Pleasant Gap.

The Chance to Wrestle

Girls are stepping onto the mat in record numbers, making wrestling the fastest-growing high school sport in the country. This WPSU original documentary follows athletes from around Pennsylvania as they vie for coveted state titles in the inaugural season of girls' high school wrestling. The film reflects on Pennsylvania's deep wrestling roots and highlights the passion, dedication, and determination of female wrestlers finding their footing in a historically male-dominated sport.

Radio and News

WPSU produces regional news that is shared over the air on WPSU-FM, through online streaming, and via articles at WPSU.org. It remains our goal to be one of the region’s most trusted and reliable sources for news. In 2024, WPSU was recognized with several prestigious awards, including an Edward R. Murrow Regional Award from the Radio Television Digital News Association (RTDNA) and awards from the Public Media Journalists Association (PMJA), the Press Club of Western Pennsylvania, and the Pennsylvania Association of Broadcasters (PAB).

A Focus on Election Coverage

In 2024, WPSU’s Vote webpage provided timely and essential election information to central and northern Pennsylvania communities. At different times of the year, visitors to the page could learn more about their local candidates, read political news, find links to Pennsylvania Department of State’s Voting and Election website, find polling places, and view election results in real time. WPSU also interviewed a number of state and local candidates, broadcast the interviews on WPSU-FM, and streamed them online.

News ROUNDUP

The News Roundup weekly newsletter features news stories from WPSU's local journalists and curated state and national news, including occasional breaking stories. More than 1,000 subscribers receive the newsletter.

Education Services

Working with our PBS partners across the state, we continued to serve Penn State's land-grant mission by aligning educational resources with PBS programming to supplement student learning at home, while supporting teachers and caregivers with resources for the classroom.

WPSU Education Ambassadors

In 2024, we launched the inaugural 27-member cohort of WPSU Education Ambassadors. This program is an exciting opportunity for educators from across the region to join their peers in professional development, networking, and ongoing support from PBS and NPR public media stations.

To kick off the initiative, WPSU Education provided a full-day training focused on deepening educators' understanding and integration of media literacy. WPSU then provided support throughout the year through virtual trainings and continual resource sharing and opportunities.

Community Engagement Spotlight

Cozy Corners

This year, WPSU collaborated with community partners to create four new Cozy Corner spaces, providing welcoming and playful engagement spaces for waiting areas in service centers, medical facilities, and community organizations. Children may feel anxious or overwhelmed during challenging family situations, such as medical emergencies or other stressful events. Cozy Corner spaces provide a comforting and engaging environment where children can feel safe and supported. With activities, reading nooks, and learning materials, these spaces offer a welcoming retreat to help children navigate difficult moments with a sense of ease and security.

Ready To Learn

A collaboration of WPSU, the U.S. Department of Education, PBS KIDS, and the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, this initiative connects children's media and learning environments to help build key skills for success in school and life, including functional literacy, critical thinking, and collaboration. It also explores career options in age-appropriate ways. WPSU collaborated with the Moshannon Valley YMCA, CenClear, and Central Intermediate Unit 10 to create a Philipsburg-based Learning Neighborhood that fosters a community-wide culture of learning at home, in the neighborhood, and within local systems and spaces.

PBS LearningMedia

WPSU and PBS continued to work in collaboration, creating and curating free, curriculum-aligned videos, interactive lesson plans, and more for teachers.

There were 146,455 total views for PBS LearningMedia in 2024.

Your Vote Matters!

A digital initiative created in partnership with PSU Votes and Government Relations to support the democratic election process in Pennsylvania and beyond.

Carmen's Eco-Farm Adventure

An interactive game that allows students to learn how a farm can be environmentally friendly, profitable, and sustainable in a future with climate change.

Healing the Red Mo

A video series that shows how central Pennsylvania citizens, nonprofits, public officials, researchers, and students are taking action to clean the Moshannon Creek and bring it back to life.

Learning Grief

A free online resource created to equip caregivers with the skills to help kids and teens navigate the big feelings that come with loss. Learning Grief was developed in collaboration with nationally recognized experts and leaders in trauma, grief, loss, and child and adolescent psychology.

Pennsylvania Pathways

A documentary video series through which students learn firsthand about education and training, apprenticeships, skills, job satisfaction, and what it takes to succeed in a variety of careers, such as architect, restaurant chef, IT instructor, and solar array installer.

Financial Literacy

A three-part video series designed to teach young adults the basics of how to create a budget, borrow money, and avoid financial scams.

WPSU Virtual Field Trips

Students can participate in interactive tours of a variety of interesting local locations without ever leaving their classrooms. Each virtual trip includes rich multimedia content, PDF teacher guides, and the option to request teacher kits. Virtual field trip locations include:

Shaver's Creek Environmental Center

Shaver's Creek Environmental Center is Penn State's nature center. Students can learn about animals, the environment, and conservation.

Elk Country

With a focus on conservation education, the Elk Country Visitor Center is the perfect place for students to learn about Pennsylvania wildlife.

Fort Roberdeau

Students can virtually visit a historic military fort located just outside Altoona, Pennsylvania, and explore the daily jobs and responsibilities of those who lived in and around the fort.

WPSU Studios

Students can explore television and radio production studios and see how PBS shows make it to television and other devices at home!

Centre County Recycling and Refuse Authority

Students can learn where trash and recycling go after the garbage truck picks it up from their homes.

Digital Content

WPSU produces a variety of digital content available for streaming on computer and mobile devices or on a television using the PBS app. We produce content for children, adults, and families to enjoy together. We're always looking for ways to inform and entertain our regional viewers while also taking advantage of the global reach of the internet to draw attention to some of the great things about northern and central Pennsylvania.

A Return to the Spotlight: Stephen Nedoroscik

As Penn State alumnus Stephen Nedoroscik entered the international spotlight as a medalist at the Olympic Games in Paris and contestant on Dancing with the Stars, our 2022 feature video on his athletic journey became an incredibly popular online destination for people hungry for more information about America's newest pommel horse sensation.

As Stephen's popularity surged in 2024, our video, "Stephen Nedoroscik: World Champion Gymnast," saw 49,000+ new streams on YouTube and the PBS app.
